Health Professional Shortage Areas

These areas have a high share of the population falling below the federal poverty line, a high population over 65, high infant mortality rates, and a low share of primary care physicians as calculated by the US Health Resources and Services Administration.